Our father lives in Washington, And has a world of carev, Yet, gives his children all a farm, Enough for them and theirs; Enough for them and theirs;
Full thirty well grown sons has he,
A numerous race indeed—
Married and settled, too d'ye see,
With boys and girls to feed;
And if they work and till their lands,
They're sure to earn a living,
And hyer restly sum to some And have a pretty sum to spare
For laying up or giving:

A thriving family are we
No lardling need deride us,
For we know how to use our hands,
And in our wits we pride us.
Hall! Brothers of the banded States,
Nay naught on earth divide us!

Some of us dare the ship North-east, Some, clover fields are sowing.

And others raise the cotton plants,
That keep the looms a-going.

Some build and steer the white-wing ships,
And tew in speed can mate them.

And others reap the bearded wheat,

And others reap the bearded wheat,
Or grain the corn to freight them;
And if our neighbors o'er the sea
Have e'er an empty larder.
To send a loaf their hearts to cheer
We'il try a little harder.
No old nobility have we,
Nor tyrant king to ride us,
Our Sages at the Capitol
Esact the laws that guide us—
Bei! Brother of the landed States!
Let naught on earth divide us!

Some faul's have we-we can't deny

A faible here and there,
But our households have the same,
And so we won't despair,
'I'will do no good to fret and fame,
And call hards names d'ye see—
And what a shame it were to part
Su, h a thriving family. Such a thriving family! Tis but a waste of t me to fret,
Since nature made us one—
And every quarrel cut a thread
That blesseed lave has s, ue;—
So, deaw the c r is of union close, Whatever shall betide us

Still eding fast, through every blast, For many a storm had fried us-Hall Brothers of the banded States!
